[pullquote align="right" textalign="center" width="30%"]If you have lost your roar, you are not alone.[/pullquote] Rampant disengagement and the astronomical rise of stress related challenges impact us all. The World Health Organization forecasts that stress will be the major cause of physical disability in the world by 2030. The individual, collective and organizational imperative to restore the roar is critical!

[pullquote align="center" textalign="center" width="30%]Achieving success in disruptive times means finding new ways to roar[/pullquote]; new ways to optimize, humanize and catalyze human purpose, passion, potential and results at the speed of change.

Creative destruction (The process of industrial mutation that incessantly revolutionizes the economic structure from within, incessantly destroying the old one, incessantly creating a new one. Joseph Schumpeter, 1942) is here to stay, and it can be applied to almost any aspect of our lives, work and organizations. Financial squeeze, market squeeze, increase in social/digital business, big data technology, increasing distrust in big institutions, more people in the marketplace due to lower price of entry, increasing competition, information overload (info-besity and increasing difficult to be heard/seen), manic/hyper cycle of wins and challenges.

[pullquote align="center" textalign="center" width="30%]Opportunity lies in having the courage to develop a NEW relationship with change, challenges, stressors and failures that puts YOU ahead of the pack[/pullquote] and helps you USE these factors to optimize, humanize and realize your greatest potential and the potential of your people. Words become worlds. Thoughts ignite our imagination and transform the way we think, communicate and execute. The need to think new thoughts, see our talent/strengths with new eyes AND use the changes, challenges, stressors and failures we face in NEW ways that drive our potential is critical.

[pullquote align="center" textalign="center" width="30%"]Here are ten thoughts/steps/ways to restore your roar, and build your 3Q Edge™/Advantage at the speed of change! [/pullquote]

The greatest opportunities lie in looking at things the way no one else does.

Champion the DNA of business success. Sift through complexity and focus on what will create ideation, innovation, traction, business development and growth.

Shed habits of thinking, doing and communicating that may have worked well in the past, but will not take you/ your people forward in the future.

Retrain your brain. Put it in the KNOW and go forward.

Learn how to use it to catalyze mindfulness, whole brain thinking and the power of reflection.

Develop habits of thought that will help shift your perspective and discover new options.

Start using changes, challenges, stressors, even failures to build YOUR greatest potential.

Leadership starts with your ability to imagine, inspire, innovate and communicate forward.

Build new and better strategies that help you play in a sandbox of quicksand.

Get empowered, re-inspired and use this momentum to inspire others because the traditionally male model of leadership is not working.

[pullquote align="center" textalign="center" width="30%"]Will the changes YOU face open the door to a better future, or become an anchor to the past that limits your potential?[/pullquote] Are you ready to restore the roar in yourself, your people and your organization? Will you see the creative destruction before you as an opportunity to optimize your talent or allow it to limit or crush your potential? Only you can decide, but the imperative to EVOLVE or DEVOLVE is real . Evolving means taking a stretch out of your comfort zone, but it may very well be the most important and valuable stretch you can take! Every small and consistent step forward is a giant leap because it helps you reset the internal GPS, rewrite neural pathways by discarding what no longer works and embracing habits of thinking-feeling-doing that take you forward faster and better.
