Irene Becker, Just Coach It-The 3Q Edge™

Values: To guard the hope, faith, courage, integrity and humanity that can lead us forward, because they are the foundation for our greatest thoughts, actions, and the hope for our individual/collective sustainability and can never be cast asunder.

Mission: To build a better world, one person, one organization at a time. It is this mission of service and commitment that was the genesis of my 3Q Edge™ model (3 essential strengths that grow in the face of change/challenges). It is the heartbeat, focus and imperative behind every service, program and keynote we provide.

Individuals: To help our clients actualize their greatest potential to learn/relearn, communicate, collaborate, lead and forward at the speed of change/challenges.

Organizations: To help executives, senior managers and teams develop new ways of thinking, doing and communicating that optimize potential, engagement, empowerment and results in high stress, high change environments.

Emerging Leaders: To help emerging leaders develop the 3Q Leadership™ skills that can help them to rise beyond the challenges before them by inspiring and actualizing the best in themselves and those they serve/lead.

Portfolio of 3Q Services/Programs: To provide programs/services that stick and grow while also planting the seeds for a new, powerful relationship with change, challenges, innovation and the actualization of one's potential. Boundary-less, customized programs deployed face to face, by Skype, telephone or video-conferencing.

Partners: To partner with those who share our mission/passion for developing new ways, new strategies of optimizing/actualizing human potential and results; drawing upon the combined integrity, experience and skill set of people and organizations dedicated to a better future.

Planet: To build a better world one person, one organization at a time; championing our ability to use what is to create what CAN be in our lives, our workplaces, our organizations and our world. Purpose equals profit on a multiplicity of levels.

Productivity: Dedication to a level of service and productivity that mirrors the 3Q skill set and mind-set that we teach. Productivity is effectiveness. We are dedicated to both.

Vision: To develop a community of great thinkers/doers dedicated to the actualization of our greatest individual and collective potential; a Global Consultancy for 3Q Leadership™ that will become the springboard for a 3Q Leadership™ Foundation dedicated to coaching, mentoring, training and teaching the underserved.
