Coaching, Training, Consulting & Inspiring, with a 3Q Edge™

Members of my executive team were struggling to find their fit, and it became apparent that I couldn't figure out the gaps in communication alone— Irene rapidly changed the dynamic, and helped our group change habits, recognize success, and reinvest in each other.

Irene's enthusiasm, directness, and compassionate humor helped myself and members of our group talk with instead of past each other. Further, her ability to connect with our existing management resources and touchstones in a meaningful way made Irene's efforts feel particularly tailored and quickly effective.

If your company's leadership needs to turn down the temperature and turn up the results, Irene is the coach facilitator you need.

I had the pleasure of listening to Irene speak at the PMI Symposium. Her knowledge and passion on the subject of 3Q Edge and how it is key to business success was evident. She had many points that I resonated with. Her focus on the positive aspects of business was refreshing. She is endearing, knowledgeable and engaging. She even got 300 PMPs to roar at the end of her Keynote ... Fabulous!
